

Introduction to IR/CP Lunch

FALL 2021

Sanghoon Park
University of South Carolina
2021-07-22

What is IR/CP Lunch?

- A lunch time meeting to talk about IR/CP studies with graduate students and faculties
  - Graduate students usually select a recent, interesting article in IR/CP area and lead the meeting.
  - You can pick IR/CP studies, but not limited to IR/CP.

Fall 2021 IR/CP Lunch

Place: Gambrell 431

Time: Wednesday from 1 pm to 2 pm

- We notice what we will read and discuss a week before the meeting via Poligrad mailing list.
- You can see our rough schedules for Fall 2021 at here

Expectations

Opportunity to share your research to others

- You can find the expected benefits from the presentation in IRCP from our program's Graduate Handbook (updated January 1, 2020).
- You can find :

"All presentations that students give personally must be practiced in front of a group of faculty no later than two weeks before the conference start date. The DGS will organize a group of faculty to observe the presentation."

- IRCP can be an opportunity to redeem the rule if you want to go to a conference.
- Also, it will be a good opportunity to let people know what you are interested in and get some valuable feedback on your research.

Expectations

Opportunity to talk about research you are interested in with others

- If you find an interesting article and want to share it, please do it.
- In IRCP lunch, you can introduce an interesting article and discuss it to get some feedbacks from other graduate students or faculties.
- It will allow you to enhance how to read an article in different ways.

For the first week

Place: Gambrell 431

Time: Wednesday from 1 pm to 2 pm
